Cielo MedSolutions Appoints Christopher King to Vice President of Operations

ANN ARBOR, MI – August 8, 2006 – Healthcare IT company Cielo MedSolutions has named Christopher M. King as Vice President of Operations. King has over 18 years of experience in technology management roles and joins Cielo from Pier 3 Technologies, where he co-founded the GPS handheld solutions provider. Prior to Pier 3, King served as VP of Marketing and Product Management for Wise Solutions, positioning the firm for a $43 million acquisition in 2003.

King's responsibilities at Cielo will include product strategy, customer relations and day-to-day company operations.

"Chris brings invaluable software-industry experience to Cielo and underscores our commitment to hiring the best talent," said David Morin, president & CEO. "He is a tremendous addition to a leadership team that is focused on delivering the most innovative healthcare software products to our clients."

"I'm excited to be joining Cielo at this important time in the company's history," said King. "Cielo's offerings greatly enhance patient quality of care and practice efficiency in primary care medicine. With a world-class team of seasoned technology and healthcare professionals, I look forward to contributing to Cielo's continued success."

About Cielo MedSolutions

Cielo (pronounced "see EL oh," Spanish for "sky") is a leading provider of healthcare software and information technology services. Founded in Ann Arbor, Michigan in 2005, Cielo helps ambulatory care physicians improve quality-of-care, optimize practice efficiency, and increase physician revenue. The company's web-based Cielo Clinic™ software helps to improve, document and report on clinical care.
